Code of Washington. Your failure to file a claim of Paternity under Chapter 26.36 of the Revised Code of Washington or to respond to the petition for termination of parent-child relationship which has been filed herein, within thirty (30) days of the first publication of this Summons and Notice is grounds to terminate your parent-child relationship with the child established prior to the termination of the parent-child relationship. Your parental rights may not be terminated unless you have given consent to termination, or your parent-child relationship is terminated involuntarily pursuant to Chapter 26.33 or 13.14 RCW.

If the court determines after hearing that the parent-child relationship should be terminated pursuant to RCW 26.33.090, or 26.33.120, the court will enter an order terminating your parent-child relationship with the child by another, nor do you have any legal rights, powers, privileges, immunities, duties, and obligations with respect to each other except past due child support obligations owed by child. If your parent-child relationship is terminated, you are not thereafter entitled to notice of proceedings for the adoption of the child by another, nor do you have any right to contest the adoption or attempt to participate in the proceedings unless an appeal from the termination order is pending or unless otherwise ordered by the court.

The court hearing on the petition for termination of parent-child relationship shall be on November 24, 2014, at 10:00am in Room 304 of the Spokane County Superior Court, 1116 W Broadway, Spokane, WA 99201.

OPERATION DOG TAG

I think Operation Dog Tag is a great program. I don't have a dog presently but they are going to locate a suitable one.

I personally hope they can find a female Akita that can help me with many tasks.

After I had the privilege of observing the group I could see how OTD helps veterans like us to connect back into society.

I think somehow these dogs make life a little easier for those with chronic pain.

Joe Scheffer, a Vietnam combat vet with the USMC and certified dog trainer, also has the ability to relate with us, so that becomes a win, win situation.

We also are able to participate in the training of our own dog and that appeals to me.

I am excited and looking forward to finding my very own four legged "Battle Buddy."

Michael Holmes / Spec 4 US Army IRAQ 2011 / Operation New Dawn

A MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR OF OPERATION DOG TAG

Dedicated to all men and women who served in combat and their families who love them. Operation Dog Tag wishes to educate the community of their purpose and asks for help in aiding the returning veterans along with the ones that are already struggling at home.

And we veterans thank you as we continue "Making Men's Best Friend Even Better For A Veteran" - Joe Scheffer, Director

FIN, FUR AND FEATHERS

The Inland Northwest's Hot Spot for Weekly Hunting & Fishing Happenings

GRAB! STEELHEAD OF THE SEASON

Date: Thursday - 10/29/2014
 www.fishingmagician.com

Last Thursday, I was part of a media tour that took place at the new hatchery facility that Grant County just completed. This was a special day dedicated to the production of upriver Brights that are so popular with area anglers. This run is consistently the largest return of Chinook salmon in the contiguous United States. The hatchery is an upgrade of the existing facility that had been in operation since 1971. The construction cost was $16.42 million and will produce 5.6 million smolts annually. The hatchery is owned by Grant County PUD and is operated by the Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife.

Todd Persons, fisheries scientist with Grant County PUD, conducted the tour and explained that way back in 1963 a large spawning channel was constructed to handle the return of fall kings in the Hanford Reach. This just didn't produce as anticipated and a much smaller hatchery was built in 1971, but proved to be inadequate for several reasons, such as improved hatchery techniques, worker safety and capacity.

We were able to catch the whole process of gathering the thousands of fish that are used for hatchery purposes. We saw fish voluntarily enter the holding areas from the river, then the transfer of these fish to trucks to the new facility. They were sorted by sex and origin (natural spawning or hatchery produced) and then sorted out for eventual spawning for hatchery needs. Persons also explained that the excess fish were sent to local agencies, such as Northwest Fisheries and Conservation, for food banks.

We also viewed the new incubation room that uses state of the art methods to produce as many as 13 million eggs. There are new raceway holding areas that keep the young fish clean and healthy until they are ready to be transferred to acclimation ponds prior to when they leave the facility to enter the Columbia River and begin their downstream migration.

The new facility can now efficiently produce the number of young fish to not only sustain this valuable run of fall fish, but improve the viability of its future. Each year the number of natural origin fish that return to the hatchery is increasing and with careful management the ratio of natural origin to hatchery produced fish is increasing. Coupled with the economic benefits that the sport fishing of these fall fish represents the investment made by Grant County PUD will pay off. Many millions of dollars are returned to the local area as result of the sport fishing effort these fish attract.

The following day was the first of a three-day event conducted through a partnership with Grant County PUD, the Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife and the Tri-Cities Chapter of the Coastal Conservation Association (CCA). Called the King of the Reach Salmon Derby, the aim of the event is to live capture natural origin fall-run kings in the Hanford Reach and be delivered to the hatchery. The need to improve the number of natural origin that are returned to the hatchery inspired Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife biologist Paul Hoffard to come up with an idea of a way to partner with Grant County PUD and the CCA to work together to do just that.

The way that the derby works is that anglers that registered for the event use hook and line to catch fall kings. This is done in the sport fishing season is closed and only derby participants are allowed to fish this stretch of the Reach. The fish are put in live wells and either transferred to catch boats provided by Grant County PUD or delivered to WDFW workers at either Wenatchee or White Bluffs. The fish are then put into tanker trucks provided by Grant County PUD and then taken to the hatchery. Last year 77 boats delivered 400 fish to these trucks, but had a better survival rate than fish that voluntarily entered the hatchery.

This year participation was down, but anglers still delivered 305 natural origin fish to the hatchery. The friendly competition provides huge benefits to the future of the fishery here in the Hanford Reach and it also gives anglers the opportunity to be named "King of the Reach" by delivering the largest number of fish to the tanker trucks. This year the winner was Thor Ostrom, who caught and delivered 52.

In between the derby tour and the derby my wife Ellen and I spent an afternoon fishing for steelhead at Bridgeport. She landed her first clipped fish of the season and I lost my first one. I am looking forward to getting back up there as the season matures.

WEEKLY HOT SPOT FISHING REPORT

Lake Roosevelt Still End To Confluence - October 30, 2014

Launched mid-morning in breezy and wet conditions. Ginger wasn't happy with the boat ride, but I knew the rougher water meant good fishing!

Went back to my normal setups, with Kekeda flies on the lead line and Rip'n Minnows on mono. Flies tipped with a piece of crawler and sent out on 150' Pugs on mono sent back 195. I chose the Kekeda perch pattern and Debbie wanted the Kekeda orange/black. Both were effective and hit equally as often.

First fish in the cooler in less than 15 mins and the action stayed consistent from there on. First few were healthy spring planters, then Debbie hooked a carryover that went 18-1/2 inches. I followed that with one that was 19-1/2 inches. Some other nice ones running 16-17" and then Debbie hooked mine with one that was 20".

With the wind as it was, we drifted tolled, as it can be near impossible to control the boat as hook up trolling into the wind. We made 3 passes on the section we fished, motoring back to our starting point each pass, until we put the last one in the cooler. Trolling speeds were 2-3.1mph. Limits came again in around 2 hours.

We repeated the same process Friday and Saturday, again with equal success. Other than some inconsiderate anglers/boaters who felt it necessary to run between us and the shoreline (bass boat with two guys and a Yamaha VMax on the back) when trolling was out of the shoreline, and another who tried to troll right up my transom (white fiberglass boat with a white top) we enjoyed our time away.

I should note for any reading my reports, one, my wife and I both have 2 poles. We make 2, and two, we have a residence in Seven Bays (not camping).
